3rd March It is probable the river will be open to navi gation on the 25th March. A good shipping is looked for, and prices of exports are moderate. According to Chinese calculation spring commonced on 22nd-day 12th month (3rd February, For two or three days afterwards the weather was comparatively mild, but after that very short spoll of spring the coldest and most unpleasant three weeks were experienced of the whole winter, the thermometer going down to 8 degrees below zero Fahr., that is, 40 degrees of frost, with strong wind and heavy falls of snow. The ice is said to be, at least three feet thick in the river, but a few days of thaw such as usually occur in March will soon put an end to the traffic by carts. In the early part of the cold season much snow is said to have fallen in Mongolia and myriads of sand grouse were driven to these plains which remain- Straits Marine Insurance Company, Limitedmade big bags, and natives have snared large quantities—so that the delicate bird has been easily obtained-perhaps not quite so cheaply though as some years ago, when grouse were as cheap as eggs, and could be bought at 100 per

The distress in the interior has not been so great as the last two winters, the crops having been on a splendid scale last harvest. Still we hear of bands of robbers that have to be contiqually fought by the "braves" who occasional ly got the worst of it. Several tigors have been brought down-and are to be seen in the native town. One of them is a very handsome beast with a splendid head. The value of a tiger we learn is from Tls. 150 to Tls. 250, the bones and other parts of the animal being prized as medicine. Tiger skins are much more valuable than formerly and very large skins are scarcely ever seen now. The roads have been very good nearly all the

PEKING.

14th March. The Emperor proceeded on the 19th to the sacrifices there and to plough the required piece of land. The Southern gate was open, the flagstones of the great street leading South have been taken up preparatory to being relaid, the Chinese Imperial Loan, 1886 E-9 per cent innumerable booths and erections, which so much disfigure and belittle our magnificient Regent Street have been removed and the two miles of prospect, with assething mass of humanity-Peking turned out on a holiday-with the towers of the gates at both ends, gave a vista from either end which the Champs Elysée in Paris would find it hard in some respects to beat. The possibility of making Peking a grand capital lies ready to our hand. The first half of the month is given uplentirely to fairs and holidays. A paper by Mr. Stonehouse, late of Shanghai on Monachism in the Early Church was read the other night at the Literary and Debating Society, and a discussion followed. The views expressed we e generally against monkery, Heiphons 29.92 although the ascetic life, cultivating compasManila 29.94 sion to the poor and purity of life were emphasised. It was then perhaps about 20 feet high, and, so far as we remember, it was not materially injured by the intense frost of 1860-61, when large specimens of Cupressus macrecarpa and Pinus' insignis were killed outright. That season the thermometer fell, on two or three occasions, below zero at Kew, where, if . we remember fightly, it has never since been so low. Some years later, when the new range of houses was built, the alteration necessitated the removal of this tree, and it was transferred to the western slope of the mound on which the Lemple of Wolus stands, near to No. 2 Museum, and the result was that it died to the ground, or nearly so; but, what was surprising, it throw up new stems, and is still flourishing. - Gardeners' Chronicle.

A QUICK CALCULATOR. Reuben Fields, a most extraordinary individual, has returned to his home in Kentucky, after air absence of some years in the West. Fields is known far and wide as the "Mathematical Prodigy," and, indeed, he is a wonderful creature. Perfectly illiterate not being able to tell one letter or figure from another, he bears the same relation to the science of mathematics that Blind Tom does to music. Fields is now about twentyeight years of age, and his ability to quickly and correctly solve the most difficult problems was discovered when be was eight years old. That faculty continued to develop until he is able to solve, with amazing rapidity, any problem in simple or compound fractions, or anything in the higher branches of mathematics. For instance, the moon is a certain number of miles from the earth; a grain of corn is so long; how many grains will it take to connect the points? The answer to this or any other problem comes like a flash. He can also tell to a second the time of day or night! This marvellous man has been tested | HOCKS, BURGUNDY. by the most expert mathematicians, and his BRANDY, WHISKIES, ALE, STOUT. invariably correct. The possessor of this gift never went to school a day in his life, and never did a day's work, except to occasionally aid merchants in invoicing their goods, and in this business he has been known to keep a score or more of clerks busy footing up columns of figures. He is a very large man, and has a look the reverse of intelligent. Having no SHIP'S COMPRADORES, STEVEDORES, occupation, he lives among his acquaintances, putting up wherever night overtakes him. He is very proud of his gift, and frequently FRESH compares himself to Samson. Fields gave an exhibition of his powers before Governor consider him one of the greatest wonders of the century .- Knowledge. TIGER-SHOOTING EXTRAORDINARY. Mr. John Powell, a zemindar in the Saharunpore district, shot three very fine tigers a short time ago under peculiar and exceptional circumstances. Mr. Powell had & gone down to his estate-which is in the vicinity of Badshabagh, a village on the south side, and two to three miles from the Timil Pass, on the road between Saharunpore and Chukrata. It seems a buffalo had been killed by a tiger. Mr. Powell had a machan tied up near it; on this he sat for some considerable time; but, bothing turning up. then had a bath and intended to go for a drive; but changed his mind and went again to the machan. He had scarcely settled himself down-that is, he had not been in the machan ton minutes-when out stalked DRY Do. a, fine full-grown tiger from the adjoining jungle and commenced to devour the dead buffalo. He fired a shot, which hit it in the shoulder end rolled it over dead. He had scarcely reloaded the discharged barrel when out came another; at this he fired four shots before he gave it its quietus. This animal bad hardly given up moving its body in its final death-thross, when an enormous tigressput in herappearance.
